Lexington, Ky., June 18.—[Special.]—Late reports about Sunday evening's storm, which have been coming in all day, show that the effects, in certain places in the county, were of great severity. The damage resulted almost entirely from the heavy fall of hail. The most serious effects seem to have been in a sweep across the Nicholasville and Harrodsburg pikes, a few miles from Lexington.

On the Little farm, Theo. Lewis owns on the Nicholasville pike it tore his garden all to pieces and played havoc with his fruit. Some of his neighbors suffered severely. John Pilkington's place, just across the road from his, was severely damaged. A fine field of corn was cut up and potato plants left standing like bare sticks. He also had a $500 crop of raspberries ruined. Mr. Karner says that the hail floating on his pond looked like solid ice, and that barrels collected about his house.

George D. Karner, out in the same locality, had his wheat crop smashed all to pieces, corn cut up and potato plants left standing like bare sticks. He also had a $500 crop of raspberries ruined. ## NEW HORSE SHOW ASSOCIATION

KNOWN AS KENTUCKY HORSE SHOW SOCIETY.

EXHIBITION TO BE HELD IN OCTOBER AT NEW PLACE.

THERE IS NO GUARANTEE FUND

At a meeting of the directors of the Louisville Horse Show Association yesterday, it was decided that the organization should go into liquidation. This plan had been under consideration for some time as the best method of settling the affairs of the organization. The business of the association will be wound up immediately. It is said that the assets are sufficient to settle all the outstanding obligations.

Confident with the liquidation comes the announcement of the organization of the Kentucky Horse Show Society with practically the same organizers as those in the former association. The new society is projected on somewhat broader lines than its predecessor, and it is capitalized at $25,000. Within ten minutes after the books of the company were thrown open for subscriptions to the stock, $10,000 of stock was subscribed. It is believed by the promoters that the new organization will be able to carry out the plans on a more extensive scale than ever before and makes the guarantors' fund unnecessary.

One Hundred Kentucky Beauties Extend Welcome

TO MADISON COUNTY'S SONS RETURNING HOME.

MANY ADDRESSES MADE AT RICHMOND'S CELEBRATION.

GOV. FRANCIS' FINE GIFT.

Richmond, Ky., June 18.—[Special.]—The sun not only shone bright in the hearts of Kentuckians to-day, but shed its benign rays over all, as the people of Madison county passed through the streets and assembled on the campus of the State Normal School, formerly that of Central University, to do honor to their most distinguished sons. Things were as bright as the sun. A gala day. Banks opened an hour earlier and closed at 10 o'clock. Business houses closed and those that did not practically transacted no business.

The day was given over to pleasure. For this was Madison county's Home Coming. Early this morning Storms Military Band marched up the street in front of Glyndon Hotel, where they remained for breakfast and party. The platform erected for the speakers was on the north side of old University Hall. It was decorated with United States flags, which were used to decorate the Kentucky building at the World's Fair. It is said that the crowd that stood under the shade of the beautiful maples on University grounds exceeded 10,000. It was certainly the largest gathering ever seen here.

Madison's Distinguished Sons.

After the invocation, Mayor Clarence E. Woods made a brief but happy speech of welcome. He was followed by W. B. Smith, who reviewed at length the history of Madison county, and referred to the careers of some of her distinguished sons. Justice Miller, of the Supreme Bench of the United States, two Governors of Missouri, Dr. Francis A. B. Storer, a member of Grant's Cabinet, Maj. Curtis F. Burnham, Minister to Russia, Gen. Cassius M. Clay, Judge Elbridge B. Broadus, of Kansas City, and the present Minister to Switzerland, Brutus J. Clay.

Mr. Smith was followed by Gov. Francis, who spoke forty minutes. He said in part:

"It has been thirty-six years since I left Richmond, a boy of fifteen. I do not know why I have not returned during that time. Especially is it inexplicable to me since I have come into your midst and met so many old friends. I want to make a pledge to you now that I will not stay away so long again if you will honor me with an invitation to return. No true American, no genuine Kentuckian, no real son of Madison county can take part in such ceremonies as these without returning thanks to divine Providence that he was born here, without being grateful that he is a Kentuckian and without feeling renewed inspiration and fresh incentive to do all in his power to bring credit upon the State of his birth and the county of his nativity."

At the courthouse a bureau of information has been opened. This morning a large number of "Home Comers" registered their names during the day.

The program for to-morrow's exercises, which will be held on Lillard's Lawn, commencing at 11 a. m., will be as follows:

MAKE PROTEST

Against Memphis Street Railway Being Held.

LOUISVILLE HOLDERS WANT IT TO STAND ALONE.

SCHEME TO COMBINE MANY SOUTHERN PROPERTIES.

ONE-TENTH IS HELD HERE.

Louisville stockholders in the Memphis Street Railway Company are much exercised over the attempt made by Isadore Newman and Sons, who are probably majority stockholders or who at least can control a majority of the stock, to form a holding company to take over the Memphis property and other railway and lighting properties in which they are interested in various southern cities.

The first intimation that such a project was contemplated was gained from a news item in a newspaper published in a Southern city. Without waiting for official confirmation that such a plan was being considered, the largest stockholders in Louisville called a meeting which was held on June 13, and after considerable discussion a resolution was adopted protesting against the amalgamation of this road with other similar properties in a holding company. The resolution contained a strong protest against any such course being pursued and expressed in no uncertain terms that the stock in this corporation had been bought by the local people on the faith in the future of Memphis as a growing and progressive city. It is said that the local owners of stock knew nothing of the situation in the corporations which the plan proposed would merge with the Memphis corporation and that as they had faith in the earning capacity of the Memphis railway, they felt that a combination might do an injustice to them in making the amalgamation and forming a holding company, whose earnings might not be as great as that of the stock held.

Committee Makes Protest.

A committee was appointed to address a letter inclosing the resolution to Isadore Newman and Sons. This letter was sent before any circular or proposition had been received from the promoters of the holding company. However, it had come to the ears of some Louisville stockholders that the stock position would be made to the effect that in exchange for one hundred shares of common stock in the Memphis corporation, one hundred and eight shares in the holding company would be given, but no basis of exchange was given on which stock in the other corporations would be given for the holding company's stock. The local stockholders also said that they did not know how the bonds of the various companies would be exchanged for the bonds of the holding company. The properties which it is proposed to combine are the Birmingham Railway and Light Company, the Memphis Street Railway Company, the Knoxville Railway and Light Company, the Little Rock Railway and Light Company, the Houston Electric Light Company, and possibly the Nashville Railway and Light Company and other smaller Southern properties.

Louisville Owns One-Tenth.

The Memphis Street Railway securities consist of $2,500,000 preferred and $2,500,000 common stock and about $5,500,000 bonds. Of these amounts, the recent meeting of the local stockholders developed in the fact that there were held in Louisville, approximately $250,000 in common and $250,000 in preferred stock. The large amount of stock held in Louisville, approximately $250,000 in common and $250,000 in preferred stock, is explained by the fact that owners of traction stocks in Louisville believe that Memphis is destined to become one of the greatest cities in the South. It is said that the local stockholders in Louisville are not in favor of allowing the earning capacity of the Memphis stock to help pay dividends on the other stocks. The holding company proposed would probably represent a capitalization in the neighborhood of $25,000,000. A personal letter was received yesterday from Isadore Newman and Sons by local stockholders in which it was stated that the stock in this corporation had been bought by the local people on the faith in the future of Memphis as a growing and progressive city. It is said that the local owners of stock knew nothing of the situation in the corporations which the plan proposed would merge with the Memphis corporation and that as they had faith in the earning capacity of the Memphis railway, they felt that a combination might do an injustice to them in making the amalgamation and forming a holding company, whose earnings might not be as great as that of the stock held.

CAPT. HOUSER A BENEDICT OVER A YEAR.

Married Miss May Cook At Court-house In Louisville, June 8, 1905.

Many Louisville and Jeffersonville friends of Capt. Edward J. Houser, who is master of the harbor steamer Monterey, which belongs to the Monongahela River Company, and who is now in Louisville, will be surprised to learn that he has been married for more than a year. At the time of the marriage the bride was Miss May Cook, of Charleston, Ind. The wedding took place at the Courthouse in Louisville, on June 8, 1905, and was officiated by Walter A. Ratcliffe and Robert Lee. At the time a request was made that the marriage be kept a secret for a while.

A few weeks after the marriage, Capt. and Mrs. Houser went to house-keeping at 427 East Front street in Jeffersonville, but only a few persons in the neighborhood were aware they had been recently married. They are now moved to Howard avenue, Fort Fulton, and the same experience has resulted there. So few of Capt. Houser's friends learned of his marriage that it was not until yesterday to make the fact public, as the secret was beginning to become common to the friends, who are now at home to their friends.

PLUCKY WOMAN.

Mrs. George T. Williams To Carry On Work of Deceased Husband.

Mrs. George T. Williams, widow of the well-known coal salesman, George T. Williams, who died about a few weeks ago, is an example of feminine pluck that is unusual. Upon the death of her husband she found herself with no resources and three small children to support. The future looked blue. She was, however, helped by the fact that her husband had been with the Jos. Walton Coal Co. as a salesman for twenty-five years, and she had many friends. His widow determined to continue his work and has arranged to do so. She has many customers regularly. She will have a horse and buggy in which to make rounds. Mrs. Williams will, of course, appreciate the patronage of her husband's former customers, and will strive to get new ones. She declares the report that her husband was preparing to leave the Jos. Walton Coal Co. for another firm is untrue.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to the following:

Alfred N. Estes and Antoinette D. Hutchison, John Schulz and Clara Herbert, John J. Bessen, Jr., and An-

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, rich blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not hard work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor stomach blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs. A little box of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient, contains Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. J. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many medicinal roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and money, to perfect his own stomachic, which is rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents. The enormous popularity of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the name of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret remedy. It is a medicine that is in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which contain the same ingredients, first put up 40 years ago, they regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated, but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

AFOLDHAMS HORSE WINS

Col. Jim Douglas Takes Latonia Feature From Good Field.

SHOWS BURNING SPEED.

Third Race Affords One of the Most Exciting Finishes of the Meeting.

RED LIGHT RUN UP TO $1,400.

LATONIA SELECTIONS.

First Race—Alma Gardia, Jigger, Katherine L. Second Race—Harold D., Bud Hill, Marmoreau. Third Race—The Minks, Marshall, Maj. J. Carson. Fourth Race—Concert, Content, Tarp. Fifth Race—Glenn Leard, Port Warden, Outing. Sixth Race—Harding, Creel, Revolt. Seventh Race—Caplan, Shining Star, Minchew.

LATONIA, June 18.—(Special.)

Latonia, June 18.—(Special.)—Dark, threatening clouds which hovered over the city all morning were not sufficient to keep a regular "wash day" crowd from being in attendance at the course this afternoon. The card while not representing any great amount of class was nevertheless very evenly balanced, and carried as its special attraction an overnight handicap at seven furlongs, in which some of the best of the sprinting quartered at the track measured stride. The work of the handicapper in this race stood out in bold relief, and as a consequence the shortest priced horse in the race, Col. Jim Douglas, who came here to play Col. Jim Douglas, a chance to get aboard at all the way from $5 to 1. This they did and the scorching ring got was felt during the remainder of the afternoon. Only two favorites rewarded the talent, and the books, outside of the bad job they received in the day's feature, had a very lucrative day.

Some surprise was manifested today when it was made known that Lady Navarre would not be a starter in the Oaks to be run to-morrow, as it was generally conceded that the Elliott mare had somewhat of a mortgage on the long end of the purse. However, investigation elicited the information that the mare had struck herself badly in her last race and was not expected to start. The favorite to Wood Clay's filly, Content, only four are carded to start, and the field, to say the least, is a very mediocre one.

Col. Jim Douglas, a dark bay, was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged. The closing race of the day saw C. C. McCaffery's Red Light, an oddson favorite, win the race. The horse, which was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged. The closing race of the day saw C. C. McCaffery's Red Light, an oddson favorite, win the race. The horse, which was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged.

Easy Pickings For Ida Davis.

It just took Jake Holtman seven minutes to get the colt, which he needed him to the day's opener. In justice to the latter official it must be said that it was a most fractious bunch of fourteen patients which lined up before him. The colt, which was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged. The closing race of the day saw C. C. McCaffery's Red Light, an oddson favorite, win the race. The horse, which was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged.

Mattie Mack Lucky To Win.

Rough riding characterized the running of the second race, which was at four and one-half furlongs. The race, which was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged. The closing race of the day saw C. C. McCaffery's Red Light, an oddson favorite, win the race. The horse, which was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged.

Blanket Finish In Third.

The third was productive of the best blanket finish of the meeting, the finish showing the first four noses apart. Fourteen cheap nags lined up in this, of which Evie Greene was made a 12 to 1 favorite. Whatever chance the latter had was destroyed by Oregon falling into a state of lethargy at the post, and when the start came he failed to wake from his numbness. The race was won by the latter horse, who was owned by a wide margin, McCaffery and his friends were not disappointed. The horse was shipped to-morrow afternoon to Sheepshead Bay, where both have been liberally engaged. The closing race of the day saw C. C. McCaffery's Red Light, an oddson favorite, win the race. ## Col. Jim Shows Burning Speed.

Nicol and the Louisville-owned horse, Col. Jim Douglas, proved the winning combination that delivered the "coup" for the Falls City contingent, who came here to back the Louisville horse for their bank rolls. This was the day's feature, an overnight handicap, at seven

MAY LOSE QUARTERS.

DOUBT AS TO BAR ASSOCIATION AND LAW LIBRARY.

Cannot Remove Books To Annex Because Floors Are Too Weak.

At a meeting of the Bar Association yesterday afternoon, the question of quarters to be occupied by that body and the law library after the court house has been rehabilitated was given long and earnest consideration. According to the present rearrangement of offices and court rooms it looks like the Bar Association and the law library will have to get out of the Court House altogether.

It was determined some time ago by the Fiscal Court to place County Judge Charles A. Wilson's courtroom on the first floor of the main building in the room which until the fire was occupied by Judge Kirby. It was planned, would remove his court to the room above known as the Commissioners room. The Commissioner, it was decided, should be given the room now occupied as the quarters of the Bar Association. The room occupied by the law library, it was decided to divide into two offices giving one to the Superintendent of County schools and the other to the county Treasurer. The offices of both these officials now on the main floor would be occupied by the County and Quarterly court quarters.

DELEGATES ARRIVING.

CHILD-SAVING PROBLEM WILL BE DISCUSSED.

Annual Convention of National Children's Home Society Will Convene To-morrow.

The annual convention of the National Children's Home Society, which convenes here to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, at the First Christian church, promises to be the largest in point of attendance and scope of work ever held since the organization of the national body. Delegates are already arriving and being assigned to their places of entertainment during their stay in Louisville. Among them are the leading spirits in the child-saving field of the United States and Canada. The delegates are coming to Louisville in response to an invitation extended by the Kentucky Children's Home Society, and will be entertained here by that institution.

The Louisville convention means a great deal for the South in the great philanthropic movement for the rescue of destitute and delinquent children, in which the Kentucky institution stands at the head. The best and most approved methods of child-saving and rearing will be discussed by men thoroughly equipped, and matters of vast importance to the entire nation will be taken up during the deliberations. The convention will continue three days, and will be presided over by Prof. Charles B. Henderson, who occupies the Chair of Sociology in the University of Chicago.

Capital Stock Increased.

The Home and Savings Fund Company Building Association filed an amendment to its charter yesterday by which its capitalization was increased from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. This is necessary because the original issue of the company has all been bought in by home purchasers.

CRONAN WINS.

Need Not Produce Records Before Grand Jury.

SUMMONED TO TESTIFY IN THE SCHOOL BOARD INQUIRY.

JUDGMENT FOR $165,000 GOES BY DEFAULT.

DR. BREYFOGLE DEFENDANT.

A subpoena issued upon the order of Lorraine Mix, Assistant Commonwealth Attorney, to require Charles J. Cronan to produce before the grand jury his private bank book and accounts in the pending investigation of the School Board's purchase of the Pearl street site, was quashed yesterday by Judge Pryor. The same order was entered in regard to the subpoena issued against the German Bank to require that institution to bring before the grand jury such records as possessed by Mr. Cronan's accounts.

Fred Forcht, representing Cronan and Tyler Barnett, counsel for the bank, argued the matter before Judge Pryor yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mix and Marion Rippey, the School trustees who laid the case before the grand jury, were both on hand. It was at Mr. Rippey's instance that Mr. Mix issued the subpoena.

No argument was made to uphold the validity of the subpoenas. Messrs. Mix and Rippey after conference, suggested to the court that they were of the opinion that the subpoena could not be operative. It had been contended that Cronan and the bank that the subpoenas would be of an inquisitorial nature and would work great hardship upon innocent persons. Mr. Mix declared that it was not the purpose of the Commonwealth to investigate Mr. Cronan. That intention had been indicated by the fact that he had been summoned to appear in the grand jury room. While the argument was still in progress, Mr. Mix issued a subpoena against Cronan, requiring him to appear before the grand jury to-day and testify in the investigation. No mention was made of his books or papers in the subpoena.

The grand jury did not go into the School Board case yesterday because of the absence of Grand Juror Q. D. Vaughn, who was detained at home on account of sickness. It is believed that the matter will be sifted to-day.

Big Judgment By Default.

A judgment for $165,624.30, which went by default and without defense, was given in Judge Gordon's court yesterday in the case of David F. Bowman against Dr. William L. Breyfogle, former president of the Monon railroad and head of the New Albany Banking Company which went to the wall in 1898.

A judgment in the Clark County, Indiana, Court for this sum had been secured by creditors of the bank against Dr. Breyfogle and William C. and Isaac S. Winstanley, who were interested with him in the New Albany Banking Company. Bowman purchased the claim from the creditors for $15,000 and is now attempting to collect something upon it.

Dr. Breyfogle, who at one time resided in this city now lives in Chicago. Service was secured by Mr. Bowman upon him while he happened to be on a visit to the city. The judgment is not effective against the Winstanleys, because they have never received service of the action.

Stone, etc.—Filed June 8, 1906.—(To be reported.) Appeal from Nelson Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge St. John.

First—Wills—Devise to Son-In-Law—Trust to His Descendants—Death of Descendant—Inheritance of Father and Mother—Devise by Husband to Wife—Construction.—Isaac S. Stone, by his will, devised certain land to his son, David H. Stone, during his natural life in trust for the support of himself, wife and children living with him, and provided, "at the death of my said son said lands devised to him in trust are to go to his descendants." Testator left but one child, David H. Stone, who died without a child or grandchild. He had one son, Isaac D. Stone, Jr., who died without issue. David H. Stone, who died intestate, held the land in trust for his wife, Annie R. Stone, who died intestate. Held that Isaac D. Stone took a defeasible fee in remainder in the land subject to the life of his wife. At his death the title thus held by him went to his father and mother by inheritance. No children thereafter being born to David H. Stone, the defeasible fee became absolute, and whatever interest he had therein passed to her next of kin.
